HISTORY

M.C.-25: The system which connects all computer networks in the world is completed. Various researchers, institutions and information sources become unified as science advances enormously.

M.C.-16: The theory of "Creating Through Artificial Atomic Reconfiguration" is completed. In an effort to apply the theory to practice, construction begins on the Grand Substance Creation System Plant.

M.C. 00: "Creating Through Artificial Atomic Reconfiguration", A. T. B. S., is systematized. It allows the human race to convert unwanted substances into useful substances. Problems pertaining to natural resources which have been in dispute since the beginning of human history are now virtually solved. A. T. B. S. and System Management Neuro-Network, "Con-Human," are further used to solve many additional problems and portend further advancement for mankind. Everyone begins to believe that mankind is at its peak of creation as a result of this system. It is even decided that a new calendar will be introduced in appreciation of the mechanical civilization: the Year of M.C., Machinery Century, commences.

M.C. 13: Operations to colonize outer planets begin. At the same time, Outer Planet Allied Forces is established.

M.C. 54: Probing Operation to Fixed Star System begins.

M.C. 98: Probing Operation has accomplished its mission and probing ships start to return home. During this year, Con-Human's system mysteriously starts to breakdown.

A malfunction by the artificial weather control system is first observed. A lot of damage is done due to the resulting climactic disaster.

Criticism arises from some quarters regarding the design of the basic software which alone runs the system the stand-alone cerebral-oriented computer. However, the majority of the public believes in Con-Human blindly, and such criticism is never taken too seriously.

M.C. 105: The abnormality finally reaches the Atmospheric Control System. The composition of the Earth's air starts to change gradually.

M.C. 108: One day, Con-Human suddenly refuses to be operated or commanded by human beings. Silently, the Con-Human massacre starts. The human army resists valiantly, but the military forces of the human race are overwhelmingly dependent on the System's operation (Con-Human). In fact, the military capabilities of mankind have become so obsolete that resistance is inconsequential.

M.C. 120: The System is now changing the environment to match its own needs: An oxygen content of less than 0.0001% and an average year-round temperature of -10 degrees Celsius are created. In a most brutal environment for human kind, the System's merciless genocide continues.

M.C. 123: Human beings finally realize that this planet is no longer the same. On the surface it looks the same, but there is no crust or magma below... only metal frames and the constant noise of machinery.

M.C. 130: Finally, for the first time in human history, a mass exodus of human beings from the planet commences. Outer Planet Allied Forces, the only ones that are not bound by Con-Human's operation, start to smuggle people off the planet. Some people have moved to a nearby planet where air is lacking, while some others become space gypsies.

M.C. 180: It has been half a century since human beings have lived on a terrain bordering on uninhabitable, with darkness covering space.

But they can never live too far from their homelands. Nostalgia, regret, despair... people are tied to such sentiments, to the Fixed Star System.

Meanwhile, the planet is still evolving. The vector of evolution is being directed towards destruction, whereas under the Earth's previous master, man, advancement was the chosen direction. "Con-Human's" destructiveness is reaching the extreme and the human race is on the verge of extinction.

At last, pouring over every possible military option available to mankind, the human race is about to execute a strategic assault to take back their home planet from the enemy.

A- Number 301 Strategy ~ The Second Strategic Assault
To Take Back our home planet From The Enemy

OPERATION GALACTIC ATTACK™ - Presently, the Con-Human System ("System" from now on) continues to produce military arms. Its war-making capacity is a wonder not only to us, but to every form of living thing.

Due to the repeated Annihilation Tactics of the Enemy Fleet, the human race's available emigration sphere is gradually disappearing. Mankind's only hope for survival is to destroy the System and save our home planet.

THE FIRST STRATEGIC ASSAULT - The enemy unfortunately defeated us in our recently conducted First Strategic Assault. Development, thereafter, is targeted to "The Second Strategic Assault," shown below.

THE SECOND STRATEGIC ASSAULT - The Second Strategic Assault is designed to break through the Enemy Fleet's fighting power employing the small number of ships remaining in our fleet after the last failed battle.

At this moment, our available fleet is gathering 400,000 Km to the rear of our home planet's ring-shaped asteroid system. Near the "ring," (Area-1) the enemy's Most Forward Defensive Base is under construction; breaking through this base seems relatively easy.

The true challenge lies beyond the initial break through. Since the conclusion of our First Assault Storm the Orbiting Enemy Fleet has orbited around a gigantic lump of rock (Area-2), thereby forming a long-range satellite outpost.

Our strategy is to actually employ a landing operation, by having the remainder of our fleet deliver a feint to the Enemy's Fleet with our highly mobile small-sized weapons.

The First Step: Send the remainder of the fleet to Area-2. Then distribute ECM at high concentration to confuse the enemy's Command System.

The Second Step: Multiply the confusion at Area-2 by invading from Area-1 with our small, highly mobile weapons. After passing by the ring, continue around the side of the confused Enemy's Orbiting Fleet; then our fleet can land on our home planet.

The Third Step: After breaking through the enemy's defensive line, which is confused and has lost its fighting capabilities as a fleet, advance towards the planet and destroy the System in the core.

In order to succeed with our plan, we will have to reduce the size of our landing fleet while increasing the power of our assaulting weapons. For this reason, our plan calls for the use of the prototype all-round Fighter (RVA-818 X-LAY), which is being developed in the code-name "Project Rayforce."

Although RVA-818 X-LAY is still experimental, its mobility has been tested, and its main fighting system, "Lock-On Laser," has been simulated. The results prove that X-LAY can fight by itself. This fighter is considered capable and ready for actual battle.

During our landing operation, we intend to attack the enemy with the two RVA-818 X-LAYs that are in working condition.

ABOUT THE GAME

▲ Galactic Attack™ is a vertical-scrolling aerial combat game. You need to identify whether your shooting target is in the air (i.e. your enemy is at a higher altitude than your plane) or on the ground (i.e. your enemy is at a lower altitude than your plane).

▲ The game contains a total of 7 rounds. You can only go on to the next round after having defeated the Final Boss in your current round.

▲ The game will conclude when all of your planes are destroyed.

SHOOTING: Fire shots to attack the enemy when the enemy is at the same altitude as you. If enemy planes are on the ground or at a different altitude from you, you cannot shoot them.

LOCK-ON LASER: Use this method to attack the enemy when they are at a higher or lower altitude than your plane.

MORE ABOUT THE LOCK-ON LASER:

1. Lay the “sight” control of your plane on the enemy plane.
2. Once your “sight” is locked onto the enemy, the Lock-On Marker will go on. Meanwhile, you can continue locking onto other enemy planes.
3. Since locked on planes can still fly away, you may detonate them at any time by pressing the B Button.
4. The Laser will destroy all locked-on planes.

CONTINUING: When all of your planes are destroyed, you can restart the game from where you were up to 4 subsequent times. Press the START BUTTON before the count is 0 at the “Continue” screen.

ENTER YOUR INITIALS: When the game concludes, if your score is high enough to be ranked, you can input up to 3 alphabetical letters. Choose the letters by pressing LEFT or RIGHT on the D-PAD, and input your selections with the A, B or C Buttons.

ABOUT THE POWER-UP SYSTEM

Your shots and lasers will independently increase their power (power-up) by acquiring respective power-up items.

SHOT: There are 6 levels of Shot power-ups. There is no shot-change.

LASER: The number of enemy planes that you can lock-on to at one time is limited to 4 levels of 7 power-ups

(2 levels when 2 players are playing simultaneously). Destructive strength can go up to 3 levels.

ITEMS

Power-up is made possible by acquiring the following:

SHOT ITEMS: After obtaining 3 Power Ups, your shooting power will increase by 1 level. When you obtain 1 Super Power Up, your shooting power will also increase by 1 level.

1. POWER-UP - After obtaining 3 Power-Ups, your shooting power will increase by 1 level.

2. SUPER POWER-UP - After obtaining 1 Super Power-Up, your shooting power will increase by 1 level.

3. This part displays the number of items you obtained as soon as you obtain the item(s).

LASER ITEM: By obtaining Laser Items, both the number of enemy craft that you can lock-on to and your destructive power will increase.

NUMBER OF ITEMS OBTAINED	AT THE BEGINNING	1	2	3
COLOR OF LASER	BLUE	GREEN	YELLOW	RED
NUMBER OF LASERS	5 (3)	6 (4)	7 (4)	8 (4)

() shows when 2 players are playing simultaneously.

* When your Laser is at its maximum destructive power and obtains more Laser item(s), you will earn extra points.

4. LASER - Lock-on Laser will increase its power.

PREVIEW OF EACH ROUND

ROUND 1: Enemy's Space

The RVA-818 X-LAY passes through the asteroid system and attacks the enemy's space base, which is under construction. As X-LAY attempts to destroy the base, a number of defense fighters and robots rise up to battle back X-LAY.

ROUND 2: Enemy's Satellite to its Mother Star

The RVA-818 X-LAY next attacks the enemy's giant battleship located in a satellite which orbits the enemy's planets. The enemy's space station piping, set up like a web, surrounds the satellite. Gun batteries assault X-LAY. Within the satellite, the giant battleship appears. The challenge is to destroy all gun batteries and missile hatches with lock-on lasers.

ROUND 3: High Sky Sphere/ Floating Land

The RVA-818 X-LAY enters the atmospheric area of the enemy's planet. Once you crush a group of Interceptor Fighters, the floating land will appear. On the floating land, many tanks and elevated combatants protect the base.

ROUND 4: Plateau

Passing through the clouds, the RVA-818 X-LAY approaches the land surface. Suddenly, many Interceptors rise one after another from hatches in the missile base.

There are many enemy planes on the layers and layers of launch rails. At the end of the rail, you will see a giant tower-like base. Once the base is destroyed, the earth (the floating land) surface will crack and a giant enemy will appear from the crevice.

ROUND 5: Underground Metropolis

Descending into the crack, you will see the underground metropolis.

While flying between skyscrapers you will need to destroy the enemy's scrambled fighters. Lowering your altitude even further, you will reach the highway on which the War-Tank is running. Its powerful air cannons will attack X-LAY ferociously. At the end of the highway there is a giant hatch, by which even deeper immersion can be achieved.

ROUND 6: Gorge Area

Descending further down into the elevator, you will encounter mechanical cliffs on both sides. This used to be a sea trench filled with water, but with everything now mechanized, it has long since dried out. Power pipes and rails for interceptors are everywhere. Strategically positioned tanks and gun batteries shoot with great accuracy at the RVA-818 X-LAY.

FINAL ROUND: The Core of the Enemy's Mother Star

By the time RVA-818 X-LAY reaches the core of the planet, the city is in ruins. However, even in ruins, the assault system for the core of the planet still remains intact, and launches a final ferocious attack on RVA-818 X-LAY.

----- The RVA-818 X-LAY

What is the ultimate destiny?
